Utah 211 makes finding help easier. The statewide resource database and referral network is designed to help every Utahn get support to meet their basic needs when in crisis or facing difficult circumstances.

Utah 211 is bridging the gap between access to local resources and Utahns reaching their full potential. Its team, partners, and providers work hard to ensure everyone knows how to get help, has access to it without barriers, and can receive it with ease and dignity. That's why 211 is accessible in multiple languages, confidential, and available to call 24/7.

This vital service is a collaboration of the United Ways of Utah, comprised of a team of compassionate, highly trained Information Specialists, Database Curators, Disaster Specialists, and Outreach Coordinators. 211 partners with nearly 3,000 providers to offer 10,000 services and resources across the state, which allows them to provide broad support for timely, effective connections to health and human resources.
